

Foothills Health Dist. Shows Increase In Population, 1945

Despite loss of air schools and T.V. decrease there is growing influx into larger towns. Operating costs 63 cts. per capita for 21,554 people. 3772 school population. 130 deaths and 445 births. Heart disease main cause of death.

Total population served by the Foothills Health district is 21,554, and the total area is 2,501 square miles. Contributory units are M. D.'s of Blackie, Highwood, Turner Valley and Vulcan; towns of High River, Nanton, Okotoks and Vulcan; villages of Arrowwood, Black Diamond, Blackie, Cayley, Milo and Turner Valley and Parkland Consolidated schools. This brings a school population of 3772.

This data is embodied in the 1945 annual report which shows a slight increase in total population over the previous year. There has been some decrease in the oilfields area, but this is made up by influx into larger towns, bring an overall increase.

A summary of vital statistics for 1945 shows a total of 130 deaths and 445 births. The five year average of deaths is 134, and the five year average of births 473.

Heart disease is in first place for mortality cause, accounting for 50 deaths. Pneumonia was second with 14 deaths. Diseases of the arteries and cancer are third with 10 deaths from each of the causes.

Attention is called in the report to the Canadian Society for Control of Cancer, which has as its objectives to correlate efforts of individuals or organizations in reducing mortality from this cause; to aid in establishing research activities; to extend public education and realize financial support.

Amongst infants there were 17 deaths under one year which gives mortality rate of 38.2 per 1000 live births. This is slightly higher than the five-year average.

There were seven cases of violent deaths in 1945, and the five year average from this cause is 12.8.

Communicable Diseases

Considerable time was spent in control of communicable disease in 1945. Scarlet fever was again prevalent in winter months, and there were mild epidemics of mumps, chickenpox and measles.

In summer and early fall there were 58 cases of whooping cough reported in the north section where only a few pre-school children had been immunized. Most cases were in Sheep Creek recently added to the Health district. The epidemic did not spread to the immunized section of the health district.

Two cases of undulant fever occurred in Turner Valley area and three cases of diphtheria were reported near Cayley. These are the first cases of diphtheria since 1932-33. In inspection and attention to communicable diseases there were 580 visits paid.

Immunization

Immunization against diphtheria, whooping-cough, scarlet fever and smallpox has been carried on at infant and pre-school clinics.

Tuberculosis

It was not possible for the T.B. division to arrange for an X ray clinic in the district. Contacts of T.B. patients are visited by the nurses and arrangements are made for them to report to the X ray clinic at the Central Alberta Sanatorium.

T. B. cases discovered in 1945 numbered 11, which was below the number of 20 discovered in 1944. There were six cases hospitalized and 16 contacts were examined. There were 705 tuberculin tests made last year.

School Checkup—Defects

Routine inspection of school children was carried on by the nurses during the year. There is a total school population of 3772. There were 2,184 pupils inspected by nurses and of these there were 1360 found to have defects. Those without defects numbered 821. There were 343 corrections of defects made. This form of inspection included a number of home visits and other duties.

The most frequent defect noted was in tonsils, with 621 cases of defective tonsils. There were 567 pupils who needed attention to teeth. 551 children were underweight. There was 179 with cervical glands; 140 were overweight; 134 had faulty vision; 97 were afflicted with mouth breathing; 28 had skin trouble; 20 had speech difficulty; 9 orthopedic trouble; 5 had thyroid condition and 4 had faulty hearing.

Ready Response to T.B. Canvassers

Comences April 16th

The canvass of all households in Carmangay, Champion, Kirkcaldy, Vulcan, Ensign Brant Arrowwood Milo and Lomond and their surrounding districts, is nearing completion and application cards for chest X ray at the Mobile Clinic which is to be at Vulcan commencing April 16th are reaching the secretary at the rate of several hundred per day.

Carmangay was the first district completed with over 300 applications being made, which means almost a complete coverage of the district. Efforts are being made there to make it a full 100% at that point.

Most canvassers have reported a few refusals, but usually after an explanation of how it works and the benefits derived, the application cards are filled out. There is no charge for this chest X ray and only a very few minutes are required. The actual X ray takes about a second, and filling in the card takes only a minute. Fifteen persons are X rayed each 15 minutes so all applicants are asked to be prompt in arrival for their appointment.

Mrs. N. Thomas, the secretary of the Vulcan Mobile Clinic committee is at the Legion hall (former Red Cross room) every afternoon and all enquiries should be directed to her, and all application cards should be left there also. Present indications are that about 3000 persons will be X-rayed during the time the Mobile Clinic will be in Vulcan. It will remain here as long as it can be operated at capacity, which is 300 per day.

We have been asked to repeat two things in connection with Mobile Clinic. It is NOT necessary to strip to the waist to be X-rayed as long as the costume contains no metal parts that would blot out the X-ray picture of a portion of the lungs. The other is that there is no age barrier. All ages are acceptable.

It should not be necessary to point this out but every person, irrespective of age or how healthy the individual considers themselves should avail themselves of this opportunity for chest X-ray and actually would be failing in their duty as a citizen, we feel, if they didn't have their chest X-rayed.

Lions Zone Meeting

A zone meeting of the Lions was held in the Legion Hall on Sunday afternoon, March 31st with representatives from Lions Clubs from Strathmore, Calgary, Beiseker, Rockyford, Vulcan and Carmangay, zone president Bill Springthorpe of Strathmore presided.

The meeting was occupied mainly with discussion of better means of serving the various communities. Plans were also discussed for the district meeting to be held at Waterton Lakes in June.

About sixty Lions were present for the dinner served at Frank's Cafe following the meeting.

The officiating minister was Rev. J. L. Wright, pastor of the church.

The altar of the church was banked with evergreen and fern, brightened by freshly cut tulips, daisies and carnations. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and the bride party advanced to the altar to the strains of wedding music played by Mrs. Stuart Campbell. The bride wore a street length wedding dress of white crepe, in low waistline design and fitted bodice. Her fingertip veil was caught by a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a bridal bouquet of red roses. Her only jewellery was a pearl necklace of her mother's. She was attended by two matrons of honor, Mrs. James Berg, wearing an afternoon dress of turquoise blue, and Mrs. Lacey Hollister, wearing a rose colored afternoon dress, both carrying nosegay bouquets of carnations and forget-me-nots.

MAIL CARRIER ON RR. 2

In spite of a stormy night, a large crowd gathered at the Union Jack School on Friday, March 29th in honor of Mr. O. Fleming, who has been mail carrier for the box holders on R. R. 2 for a number of years.

All through his term he kept a pleasant smile, giving excellent and prompt service to all he served. Whether there was sunshine or mud, Owen always remained jovial and courteous. As usual he attended the social gathering which was in the form of a card party, but not knowing that he was the honored guest until late in the evening when he was brought forward and presented with a purse of silver. In his usual cheerful manner, he thanked his many friends and remarked what a pleasant surprise it was. The entire community regrets losing Mr. Fleming as a mail carrier, but wish him success in other ventures.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Miller of Vulcan, announce the engagement of their third daughter, Elizabeth Lou, to Maurice H. Weiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Weiss, of Champion, the wedding to take place Monday morning, May 13th, at St. Mary's Cathedral in Calgary.

During the signing of the register Miss Jean Martin sang with feeling, the popular number, "My Hero", from "The Chocolate Soldier".

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Hollister.

Receiving with the bridal couple at the reception, were the mothers of the bride and groom. Mrs. Anderson wore a leaf green tailored suit with hat to match and wore a corsage of talisman roses.

Mrs. Blair chose a black tailored suit and hat to match and wore a corsage of talisman roses.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and a most dainty buffet luncheon was served. Mr. Guy Denbeigh, an old-time friend of the family, proposed the toast to the bride. He had known her since infancy and retraced her extraordinary progress through the schools at Vulcan, then on to the University of Alberta, from which she had graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing. The groom aptly accepted the duty of response.

The groom, recently discharged from the R.C.A.F., was four years in the service, two years being spent at the Vulcan airport. He was a Opl. Instrument Mechanic, and was sent overseas to serve with the famous Moose Squadron, going into Germany with the army of occupation and spending a couple of months at Hamburg.

Since graduation from the University of Alberta, and writing her Reg. N., the bride served for nearly two years with the Provincial Department of Health as a District Health Nurse, the last eighteen months her headquarters being at Youngstown.

He and his bride will take up their home on his farm at Ochre River, near Dauphin, Manitoba. The usual gaiety of such an occasion was subdued by the shadow of the circumstances of war. The brother of the bride, Lieutenant Jack Anderson of the Calgary Highlanders, was killed in action on the Western Front near the end of the war.

The happy couple left by train in the evening for Calgary, and thence on to Winnipeg on their honeymoon. The bride's travelling costume was a smart green suit ensemble with matching accessories.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Storey, uncle and aunt of the bride, of Girvin, Sask.; Mrs. Isabel Rodgers of Lethbridge; Mrs. W. J. Blair of Ochre River, Man., mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Morgan of Strathmore; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. King of Claresholm, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Baseball Organized First Practise This Sunday

After an absence of many years baseball is returning to Vulcan, or rather Vulcan is again turning to baseball. At an organization meeting held recently in the Legion Hall a good deal of enthusiasm was evident and a review of possible baseball material proved very encouraging. The following officers were elected:-

President—Keith Elder; Vice-President—Bov. Banks; Secretary—Treasurer—Bob Willard; Equipment—Gordon Clayton and Howard Spaeth; Manager—Ralph Johnston; Coach—S. Bernard; and Umpire—J. E. Ginther.

A few donations have already been made to the Ball Club and this has been used in purchasing bats and balls, but a great deal more is still needed. Further donations will be much appreciated.

The first practise has been called for this Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Any one interested in baseball is asked to be on hand.

There has already been considerable discussion about a six or eight team league for the coming season and a meeting will be held shortly at Nanton to formulate league plans.

Yes, baseball will soon be a reality here.

GROWING RESPONSIBILITY

It is said that the Canadian Legion at this point may have a membership of from 250 to 300 within a few months. Already one hears that the Legion is the most influential single group in town or district. Its membership embraces town and rural interests, and is further backed by the kinsfolk of the members. This estimate comes, not from the Legion itself, but from observers outside the organization.

It is a very fine thing to see such growth and vigor in any group, and it is to be hoped that every ex-service man and woman in the district becomes an active member. Such association is mutually beneficial. Based on community of interests, it gives backing to the individual returnee, and strengthens the organization as a whole for a score of useful purposes.

But with increased strength comes increasing responsibility. The greater the power and authority, the greater must be the wisdom in exercising that power. It is all very well for a small group to be restricted and narrow in objectives. But when that group increases in stature, becoming the greatest single influence, the horizons must widen. It must see the community as a whole, each element dovetailing into the other and all interdependent. Otherwise the greatest possible usefulness cannot be fulfilled.

The time may come, as it came after the last war, when jobs for soldiers are only one part of the picture. It is no less important that there be jobs for the oncoming young people, who were too young for war action, but who will be pouring out of the schools year by year and every year on into the future. It is reasonable enough that ex-service men should expect priorities, and stand together in that aim. But national well-being and community well-being go deeper than that. As Capt. Harper Prowse has said there is no real gain if employment of a returned man means displacement and idleness for another man. At present "jobs for soldiers" may be a main objective, but in the long run that is not wide enough. Society will not be happy, nor Canada a land fit for heroes to live in unless there are jobs for all. Without the backing of food, munitions, money, the man on the battlefield could not have carried on. Without a busy, wage-earning society round about him, the returned man is not going to be happy nor feel that the courage he has shown and the ordeals he has endured have been worth while. His real thought is "work for all" whatever he may feel in respect to relative sacrifice.

The local branch of the Legion is fortunate in having as leaders men who see life on a broad scale. The influence which the Legion may wield as a body, is safe in their hands. They can be depended upon to serve well the interests of the returned men, and also to keep the wider horizons ever in view.

Corrections made in reported defects included 197 in teeth; 72 in tonsils and 64 in vision.

Pre-School

Infant clinics and pre-school clinics are held regularly at 11 of the larger centres, and an effort has been made to contact post-natal cases after discharge from hospital. Visits were made to more than 50% of such homes. This is an important part of the public health service.

The increase in this work is evident each year. Last year there were 183 pre-school and infant clinics held with 1016 infants examined, and 1082 pre-school children examined. There were also 238 infant home visits and 383 pre-school home visits.

Post natal booklets are sent out to the mothers and public health service is augmented with pamphlets on health topics to schools and clinics, and the showing of health films.

Sanitation

Sanitation is under supervision of J. C. Mooney and in this connection there is inspection of restaurants, dairies, private premises, nuisances grounds, butcher shops, slaughter houses, locker plants, bakeries, confectioneries, food stores, school grounds, farm properties, etc.

There was only one prosecution in 1945 which was through refusal to carry out an order to abate a nuisance.

The milk standard throughout the Health district is good, with appreciated co-operation of dairymen. Demands for pasteurization came in from Turner Valley oil field and indications are that this may be realized in 1946. The outbreak of undulant fever in the

Ladies Auxiliary Meets

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion was held Thursday, March 28th, with a fair attendance of members. Correspondence was light. Reports of committees showed the ladies have been busy, and that a very satisfactory profit was realized from catering to the auction sale at the Harry Adams farm. It was decided to hold an auction sale and social evening in the Legion hall on Tuesday, April 23rd, commencing at 8.30. Members and those planning on renewing their membership please come and bring a friend. Members will also bring some saleable article for the auction. It is hoped to have a good turnout as the committee have an interesting evening planned. So don't forget the date—Tuesday, April 23rd. The sick committee reported two members in hospital, recovering from operations, namely Mrs. Finnigan, and Mrs. Brinton. Volunteers were called for to assist in canvassing the Town for applications for the mobile T.B. Clinic to be held in Vulcan commencing the week of April 1th. The ladies were most co-operative and offered to help with the canvas and also with any aid required by the clinic while here. The meeting adjourned with the singing of God Save the King.

TAKE PRIDE IN ALBERTA!

It was 1930 . . . Two flying pioneers, Wiley Post and Harold Gatty piloted their globe-circling "Winnie Mae" over a very minor yet strategically located airfield. They set it down in a morass of mud that was Edmonton's Municipal Airport. Yet, destined to grow from these muddy runways and from this one small hangar was one of the greatest airfields of the continent—Edmonton Airport—crossroads for the wings of the world.

The present Airport was born in 1920 to serve those early pioneers of aviation who were flying supplies and equipment into our great North. From that date facilities were progressively improved as the North was expanded. Thus, with our declaration of war, followed by the entry of Russia into the conflict, and Pearl Harbor, Edmonton had the perfect setting for the tremendous expansion required to meet the emergency.

82,400 AIRCRAFT HANDLED IN ONE YEAR

Today the field is practically surrounded by mammoth hangars and aircraft repair depots. Covering 750 acres of land, the airport has three miles of concrete runways, 200 feet in width. There is a concrete perimeter track that practically circles the field. During the war years, the heaviest bombers and transport aircraft and the fleetest fighters were stationed or shuttled through Edmonton to Russia and the Orient. In one day 865 aircraft were cleared through, in the single year 1943 a total of 82,400 planes passed through the Edmonton Airport.

EDMONTON ON THE ROUTE TO ORIENT AND MOSCOW

According to aviation authorities, the shortest distance between points in North America and Asia will be over the top of the world. Through the Edmonton Airport, Alberta's place on these great airpaths of the world is assured. Already an American Air Line has permission to operate a passenger and freight service from New York to Manila via Edmonton. The Trans-Canada and the Canadian Pacific Air Lines operate regular schedules out of Edmonton. The Airport is also used by the Royal Canadian Air Force, the Associated Airways, the R.C.M.P., the Imperial Oil and Eldorado Mines. A rough estimate shows that approximately 100 aircraft per day now, either land or take off, from this site of Canada's largest Airport.

PROPHECY COMING TRUE

Indeed, the 16-year-old prophecy of the late Wiley Post is coming true. As he stepped from the "Winnie Mae" at Edmonton on that memorable day in 1930, he said, "This airport is destined to play a prominent part in the construction of an aerial bridge to Asia."

Albertans may well be proud of the outstanding advancement in aviation that has taken place in this great province, and the part we are destined to play in future aviation history.
